PICTURE TAKING AT CHILDREN'S PROGRAMS

It is permissible for parents to take pictures of their own children during a Children’s and Parents’ Services Department program if they use discretion and make sure that other children are not in their photos without the other parents’ consent.

If the Children’s and Parents’ Services Department wishes to take pictures of a program, the librarian should make a verbal announcement to the participants that pictures will be taken of the participants for possible use on our website, newsletter or social media platforms, and that any parent/caregiver who does not want photos taken of their child should advise Library staff.

Adopted by the Board of Trustees June 1, 1992. Revised March 18, 2020.