A NOTE FROM THE DIRECTOR:

“It isn’t enough to talk about peace. One must believe in it. And it isn’t enough to believe in it. One must work at it.”

– ELEANOR ROOSEVELT

On behalf of the Library Board of Trustees and staff, I would like to thank local Patchogue resident John Baum for his efforts to bring the installation of two peace poles to our Main Library garden and Carnegie Library. Pictured on the cover is Mr. Baum and Joselo Marcelo, who dedicated the peace pole at the Carnegie Library to the memory of his brother, Marcelo Lucero, a local resident who was tragically killed in 2008. A second peace pole was installed in the rear garden at the Main Library, dedicated to the memory of Nina Uchida Friedberg, local resident and life-long peace advocate. These installations were made possible by a memorial fund created by Marian Russo at the Library in honor of her mother, Nina Friedberg. For more information on the installations, please visit our website at www.pmlib.org/peace.

Mr. Baum continues to work with the Patchogue-Medford community with a goal to plant 100 peace poles on Long Island in 2020-2021. If you are interested in getting involved, please contact me and I will connect you with the newly formed Greater Patchogue City of Peace committee, headed up by local resident, James Skidmore.

The Roof Replacement Project at the Main Library is in full swing and our hope is that it will be completed by the end of November. The parking adjacent to the Library’s east side will remain closed throughout the project, and we are sorry for the inconvenience. The side door will be open and accessible for most of the project, but may need to be closed from time to time for the safety of everyone. We will post on social media if we need to do this. Please feel free to call the Library before you come, so we can help make your trip as easy as possible. You may also utilize our curbside pickup service or call our staff so we can help you access all of our digital content.

The Medford Library Project is in the planning stages. H2M Architects presented some preliminary sketches at the September meeting and the Library is currently working on land testing, surveying the property, and the SEQRA process. We are posting information on the Library’s website at www.pmlib.org/medfordbranch. Please continue to check back for updates and call the director at 631-654-4700, ext. 300 with questions, suggestions and feedback.

How do you read the newsletter?

Please call the Library at 631-654-4700, ext. 225 or scan the QR code to provide feedback and help us plan for the future.
